Dear Parent/Carer,

As we come to the end of the Spring Term, we have the opportunity to celebrate on several accounts.

If your name is Jenny/Jeni and you work at Hunters Hall, then this Easter time is going to be a very special one. Miss Neil will be returning afterwards as Mrs O'Dwyer. And, Miss Monrose will be going onto maternity leave and will soon be a proud parent. I wish them both the very best.

Firstly, the class teachers have had to make the difficult choice of which child receives the Spring Term class certificate. You will see the list in this edition of Snippets.

This week, our wonderful reception put on an Easter spectacular that made the audience cry, smile and cheer. Their costumes were fantastic as was their singing and narrating.

On Monday, it was a pleasure to be in the audience when our Year 4 choir performed two songs at an evening recital concert held at Sydney Russell School. The Head of Music Services stated, "…their enthusiasm and style made a real impact, guided so well by Mrs Bright's leadership. It was wonderful to see them take part with such confidence and energy."

On Tuesday, further football excellence was demonstrated by our Year 6 football team. My modest prediction of 3-1 was blown out of the water by the final 8-0 result.

Wednesday's Easter Fayre took place after school. Each class were tasked with running a stall whereby they had created a product to sell or a game to play. Thank you for the support that you gave. We raised a whopping… £1368.70. This money will be spent on much needed resources just for the children.

Today, it has been a joy to hear the Year 5 instrumentalists performing for their families in the upper school hall. The tuneful music cascaded along the corridor.

When we return from Easter – I am going to be checking to see which children know Article 28 and Article 29 of the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child. (See the full set in this edition of Snippets.

Article 28
Every child has the right to an education. Primary education must be free. Secondary education must be available for every child. Discipline in schools must respect children's dignity. Richer countries must help poorer countries achieve this.

Article 29
Education must develop every child's personality, talents and abilities to the full. It must encourage the child's respect for human rights, as well as respect for their parents, their own and other cultures, and the environment.

Have a very safe and enjoyable Easter break and see you back at school on Monday 13th April at 8:30am.

Michael Kaitell, Headteacher

Our Rights

In 1989, governments across the world promised all children the same rights by adopting the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child. The Convention says what countries must do so that all children grow as healthy as possible, can learn at school, are protected, have their views listened to, and are treated fairly.

These are our rights.

Article 1
Everyone under the age of 18 has all the rights in the Convention.

Article 2
The Convention applies to everyone: whatever their race, religion or abilities, whatever they think or say, whatever type of family they come from.

Article 3
The best interests of the child must be a top priority in all things that affect children.

Article 4
Governments must do all they can to make sure every child can enjoy their rights.

Article 5
Governments must respect the rights and responsibilities of parents and carers to direct and guide their children as they grow up, so that they can enjoy their rights properly.

Article 6
Every child has the right to life. Governments must do all they can to make sure that children survive and develop to their full potential.

Article 7
Every child has the right to a legal name and nationality, as well as the right to know and, as far as possible, to be cared for by their parents.

Article 8
Governments must respect every child's right to a name, a nationality and family ties.

Article 9
Children must not be separated from their parents unless it is in their best interests (for example, if a parent is hurting a child). Children whose parents have separated have the right to stay in contact with both parents, unless this might hurt the child.

Article 10
Governments must act quickly and sympathetically if a child or their parents want to live together in the same country. If a child's parents live apart in different countries, the child has the right to visit both of them.

Article 11
Governments must do everything they can to stop children being taken out of their own country illegally or being prevented from returning.

Article 12
Every child has the right to have a say in all matters affecting them, and to have their views taken seriously.

Article 13
Every child must be free to say what they think and to seek and receive all kinds of information, as long as it is within the law.

Article 14
Every child has the right to think and believe what they want and to practise their religion, as long as they are not stopping other people from enjoying their rights. Governments must respect the rights of parents to give their children information about this right.

Article 15
Every child has the right to meet with other children and to join groups and organisations, as long as this does not stop other people from enjoying their rights.

Article 16
Every child has the right to privacy. The law should protect the child's private, family and home life.

Article 17
Every child has the right to reliable information from the media. This should be information that children can understand. Governments must help protect children from materials that could harm them.

Article 18
Both parents share responsibility for bringing up their child and should always consider what is best for the child. Governments must support parents by giving them the help they need, especially if the child's parents work.

Article 19
Governments must do all they can to ensure that children are protected from all forms of violence, abuse, neglect and bad treatment by their parents or anyone else who looks after them.

Article 20
If a child cannot be looked after by their family, governments must make sure that they are looked after properly by people who respect the child's religion, culture and language.

Article 21
If a child is adopted, the first concern must be what is best for the child. All children must be protected and kept safe, whether they are adopted in the country where they were born or in another country.

Article 22
If a child is a refugee or is seeking refuge, governments must make sure that they have the same rights as any other child. Governments must help in trying to reunite child refugees with their parents.

Article 23
A child with a disability has the right to live a full and decent life with dignity and independence, and to play an active part in the community. Governments must do all they can to provide support to disabled children.

Article 24
Every child has the right to the best possible health. Governments must work to provide good quality health care, clean water, nutritious food and a clean environment so that children can stay healthy. Richer countries must help poorer countries achieve this.

Article 25
If a child lives away from home (in care, hospital or in prison, for example), they have the right to a regular check of their treatment and the way they are cared for.

Article 26
Governments must provide extra money for the children of families in need.

Article 27
Every child has the right to a standard of living that is good enough to meet their physical, social and mental needs. Governments must help families who cannot afford to provide this.

Article 28
Every child has the right to an education. Primary education must be free. Secondary education must be available for every child. Discipline in schools must respect children's dignity. Richer countries must help poorer countries achieve this.

Article 29
Education must develop every child's personality, talents and abilities to the full. It must encourage the child's respect for human rights, as well as respect for their parents, their own and other cultures, and the environment.

Article 30
Every child has the right to learn and use the language, customs and religion of their family, regardless of whether these are shared by the majority of the people in the country where they live.

Article 31
Every child has the right to relax, play and take part in a wide range of cultural and artistic activities.

Article 32
Governments must protect children from work that is dangerous or might harm their health or education.

Article 33
Governments must protect children from the use of illegal drugs.

Article 34
Governments must protect children from sexual abuse and exploitation.

Article 35
Governments must ensure that children are not abducted or sold.

Article 36
Governments must protect children from all other forms of bad treatment.

Article 37
No child shall be tortured or suffer other cruel treatment or punishment. A child should be arrested or put in prison only as a last resort and then for the shortest possible time. Children must not be in a prison with adults. Children who are locked up must be able to keep in contact with their family.

Article 38
Governments must do everything they can to protect and care for children affected by war. Governments must not allow children under the age of 15 to take part in war or join the armed forces.

Article 39
Children neglected, abused, exploited, tortured or who are victims of war must receive special help to help them recover their health, dignity and self-respect.

Article 40
A child accused or guilty of breaking the law must be treated with dignity and respect. They have the right to help from a lawyer and a fair trial that takes account of their age or situation. The child's privacy must be respected at all times.

Article 41
If the laws of a particular country protect children better than the articles of the Convention, then those laws must stay in place.

Article 42
Governments should make the Convention known to children and adults.

The Convention has 54 articles in total. Articles 43–54 are about how adults and governments work together to make sure that all children get all their rights.

Football Update

A fine performance from our year 6 boys. We faced Riverside Primary, all goals scored were top class. We won comfortably 8-0, we now move into the semi-finals of the Finesse Cup.

"Something amazing is about to happen"

Well done boys!

Time Travellers

This is currently open to years 2-6.

We look forward to sharing the successful candidates soon.

We are asking you to tell us why you think you will be an amazing history pupil leader. You could create a poster, write a creative letter or leaflet, or even compose a poem!

Remember to include as much information as you can. Tell us why you would be a good history leader, what you could implement within the school and how we can share more about history with our community. We look forward to seeing your application!

Time Travellers Hunters Hall Primary

Please give your application to Miss Mullaney by Friday 17th April.

Happy Easter

No doubt you will have noticed supermarket shelves are stacked high with chocolate eggs, sweets and sticky treats ready for the Easter holiday. It can be hard to resist sugary snacks, but it's definitely worth considering the impact they could have on your teeth. Each time you eat anything sugary, your teeth are under acid attack, producing harmful acids and increasing the risk of tooth decay. This is why it's very important to only eat sugary foods at mealtimes, limiting the amount of time your mouth is at risk.

Take care of your teeth without missing out on all the fun:

- Brush teeth twice a day for two minutes each time with a fluoride toothpaste, and remember to supervise children's brushing if they're under seven years of age.
- Enjoy chocolate at mealtimes, rather than nibbling throughout the day.
- When you've finished a meal, eat a small piece of cheese – it will help to neutralise the acids that cause tooth decay.

Try swapping traditional children's Easter activities for some more tooth-friendly ones:

- Swap chocolate eggs for cuddly toys or fancy-dress items.
- Visit a small zoo or animal sanctuary as a special treat for children in the Easter holidays.
- Pop some mini glow sticks inside Kinder egg containers and organise an Easter egg hunt in the dark.

Reducing your sugar intake won't just benefit your oral health, but can also improve your general wellbeing. Just remember to keep everything in moderation and stick to a good oral health care routine.
Have a very happy Easter!

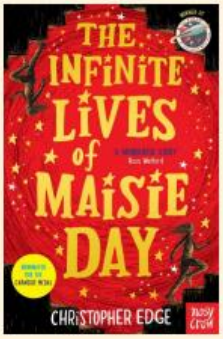
Author of the Week

CHRISTOPHER EDGE



Four of Christopher's books have been nominated for the prestigious CLIP Carnegie medal.

Christopher writes books which tackle big questions and provoke the reader to think. Each one, because of this, is full of twists which will have you guessing until the end.

The genre Christopher writes is science-fiction - which combines science and - you guessed it - fiction to create an intriguing story. Don't be fooled into thinking they're all set in the future or space, though. Not all sci-fi books are!

If you like Frank Cottrell-Boyce or Kirsty Applebaum, you'll love these books!

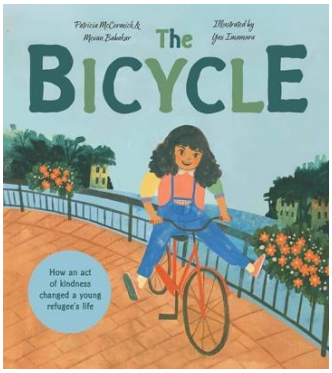
Christopher Edge says:

I love reading because books can help you to make sense of the world, they can let you escape from your world for a while, and maybe, one day, even inspire you to build a better world. Keep reading and change the world!

Reading for Pleasure Matters at Hunters Hall

Taking a small break from Year group topics, we will be focusing on showcasing books linking to empathy! At Hunters Hall, pupils learn about the importance of understanding and sharing the feelings of others to foster compassion, reduce bullying, and improve relationships. Have a look at some book selections below related to compassion and kindness!

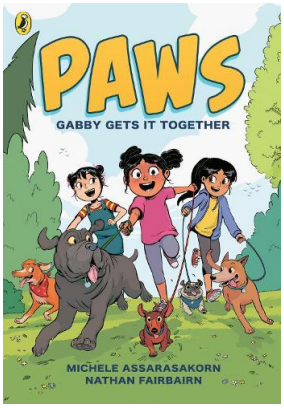


The Bicycle!

The true story of how a simple act of kindness changed a young refugee's life!

For generations, Mevan and her family lived in their beloved Kurdistan. But when they are forced to flee by the Iraqi government, Mevan must leave everything behind. Her family travels from country to country in search of safety; and with each stop, Mevan feels more and more alone. Until … a stranger's gift changes everything.

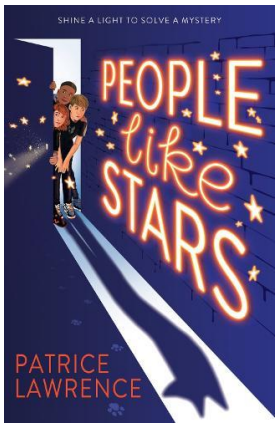
Based on Mevan Babakar's own childhood, this is a moving reminder of how powerful just one act of kindness can be.



Paws: Gabby Gets it Together!

Meet best friends Gabby Jordan, Priya Gupta, and Mindy Kim. They're different in just about every way--personalities, hobbies, family, and more--but they have a few important things in common: they're all in the same class, they absolutely love animals, and for reasons that are as varied as the trio themselves none of them can actually have any pets.

Unable to resist the adorable temptation any longer, the girls decide to come up with a way to finally get their hands on some furry friends. And, as luck would have it, it seems like their neighbourhood is in need of some afterschool dog-walkers. So, just like that, PAWS is born!



People Like Stars!

Three 13-year-old strangers are connected by one big secret. Nervous Ayrton was stolen away from his mum as a baby. He was returned safely, but now Mum won't let him out of her sight. Curious Stanley has a Forbidden Grandmother. His mum won't even talk about her. Homeless Sen has finally found a place to live, but she'll be out on the street if she upsets her secretive landlady.

What happens when their paths cross...? This book is gripping, empathy-filled, warm, complex and optimistic!

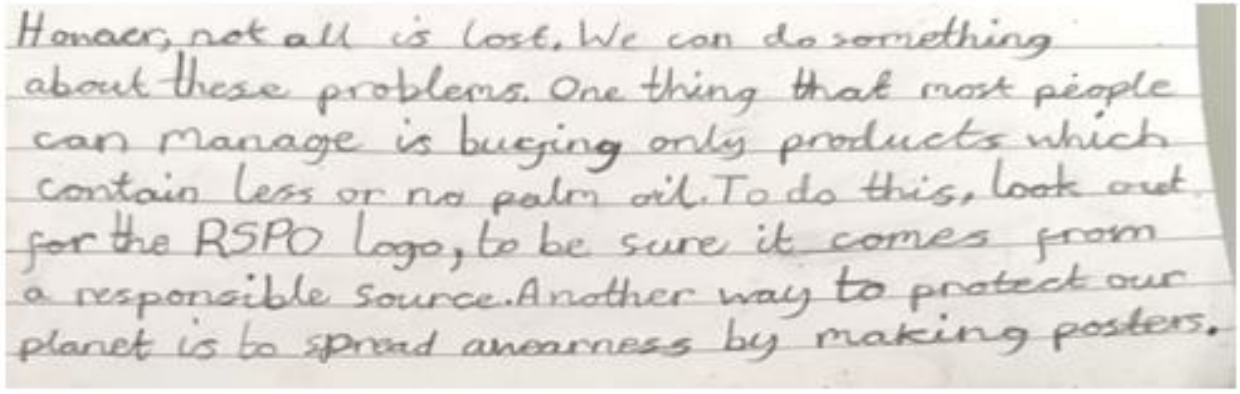
Vanishing Rainforests

Year 4 have been learning about the disappearance of our world's rainforests, a vital part of the ecosystem and the "lungs of the world". Not only have we learned about the impact on humans, but also how deforestation can affect animals living in the rainforests.

Some of the children made models of the rainforest and some showed how the forest looks as a result of deforestation. A big thank you and well done to Maya, Cleo, Azad, Melisa, Sahil, Isabella and Bailey.

We also discussed what we can do to help stop rainforest deforestation.



Honour, not all is lost. We can do something about these problems. One thing that most people can manage is buying only products which contain less or no palm oil. To do this, look out for the RSPO logo, to be sure it comes from a responsible source. Another way to protect our planet is to spread awareness by making posters.

We have a future window cleaner!

Earlier this week, Brayden from year 2 had the opportunity to experience his dream job at school. Brayden shared that he would love to be a window cleaner when he grows up and alongside Mr Brown, did an amazing job cleaning some of the windows at our school. Brayden was very skilled, making sure he cleaned each part of the window until it was shining! Brayden had his own personalised hi vis jacket and his own window cleaning set which he was able to keep. He even got a chocolate coin 'tip' from his customer, Mr Kaitell! Well done Brayden, we are very proud of you and thank you for the wonderful job you did cleaning our windows!

Year 3 Holi Celebration

On Tuesday, Year 3 marked the end of their R.E. unit, “How and why do Hindus celebrate Holi?”, by taking part in their very own Holi festival. The children thoroughly enjoyed celebrating together and experiencing the joy and colour associated with this special festival.

Thank you to all the adults who were able to attend and support the event—it was greatly appreciated. The children had a fantastic time! ~ Mrs Kaur

Learn to play in a band

Learning an instrument should be fun. Your child can choose from the electric guitar, keyboard, drums or vocals and enjoy playing in a happy, supportive environment with their friends.

Lead by real musicians

Your child's music teacher should also be their role model. Which is why all Rocksteady Band Leaders are carefully chosen, extensively trained musicians who know how to inspire a life-long love of playing music.

In school time

Lessons are 30 minutes long and take place in school time with all instruments provided, making it hassle-free for parents.

From first notes to favourite songs

The Rocksteady Programme is for all children aged 4-11 and is proven to progress musicianship, confidence and teamwork skills with no prior experience necessary.

With regular live performances

Playing on stage is a huge confidence booster. With termly concerts at school assemblies, your child will be able to show off their progress to friends, teachers and parents with the rest of their band.

And happily affordable

Rocksteady is one of the most hassle-free ways to learn an instrument on a rolling subscription that you can cancel at any time. It's risk free too – cancel in the first month and you'll get a full refund.
